Dear Friends,

Happy Easter! Jesus Christ is risen. Alleluia! He reveals himself to us in the breaking of the bread. He did then - and does now.

Many of us feel a bit like the disciples this week, sad and confused. Friday, we said goodbye to school mom, school board member, and Loyola learning specialist, Molly Harris. Molly helped to institute the Sunday 4:45 Mass - so that those with Sunday morning scheduling conflicts could avail themselves to the Eucharist. Throughout her illness, Molly relied on the Sacraments, often struggling with her crutches to make it to our new Sunday afternoon Mass to receive our Lord.

In today's Gospel, we have another appearance of the resurrected Christ to the downtrodden and probably fearful disciples. Jesus walks with them, talks to them and finally breaks bread with them... and they recognize him in that familiar action. All week, after reading today's gospel passage, I have been running around humming a song we used to sing when I was in college. It is called simply, "In the breaking of the bread." The song contains striking lyrics.

*"In the breaking of the bread, we have known him;
we have been fed.
Jesus the stranger, Jesus the Lord, be our companion;
be our hope"*

The songwriter accomplishes two things with the refrain. He reminds us that the Risen Christ does not want to be a stranger, and makes a profession of faith and a petition for Divine assistance. He makes me think about my own devotion to the Eucharist, especially in this year of Eucharistic revival.

Do I recognize him in the breaking of the bread?

Do I know that Christ is truly present, alive, and coming to be with us at the Mass?

Aware of all that life brings me, can I really trust Jesus to be my companion and my hope?

If I answer these questions with a "yes," as I presume, we would all like to do, then how does that call me to approach the Eucharist? I think a "yes" will demand a few things from us. Let's make our answers to the questions above real answers, not just words. Let's make our "yes" mean yes and - approach the altar with reverence and awe. Let's commit to a life companioning with Jesus. He is our hope!

Recognizing Jesus in the breaking of the bread requires an attitude of awe. He is present, really present, in the simple form of bread and wine! The theologians call it "transubstantiation." I call it "gift." The recipients of the gift can only appreciate the gift when they open the gift with wonder and awe. Think of the love that God has for us. So great was God's love, that he sent his only Son, who not only lived and died for us, but he gave us the Eucharist, his Body and Blood, as a living memorial of that love.

Often, we drag ourselves to Mass (or sometimes find excuses not to), more out of an obligation, or to avoid guilt, than out of an awestruck response to God's love. In the Eucharist, in the breaking of the bread, if we allow ourselves to reflect for some moments on what it is we are doing, we will know him more closely, more intimately, more dearly.

Trusting Jesus to be our companion necessitates commitment on our part. We cannot claim companionship with someone to whom we rarely speak. This relationship calls for some mutuality. The one who is our companion and our hope is always waiting for us, is always there for us and is always calling us. How much time do you spend in conversation with the Lord? I think we all could spend a little more time with him.

As we remember Molly Harris and live her legacy, even if we are experiencing sadness and deep sorrow as the disciples were, let's allow the Lord to come to us, walk with us, and reveal himself to us in the breaking of the bread.

Peace,

From the Loft

This weekend the parish choir sings at St. Joseph Church at the 10:30 am Mass.

The communion meditation is one of the most well known and beloved anthems of all time, God So Loved the World. Sung in Christian churches throughout the United States and England, the anthem is a statement of our faith: "God so loved the world, that He gave his only begotten Son, that who so believeth in Him, should not perish but have everlasting life".

If you know this song, feel free to hum along as the choir sings from the front. Alleluia, He is Risen!

The Human Quest for Meaning

Thursday, May 4 7:00 p.m.

Provost and VP of Development and Marketing
University of St. Mary of the Lake/Mundelein Seminary

When events happen in daily life, do we discern the hand of God, serendipity, or mere chance? Does 'everything happen for a reason' or am I merely (un)lucky? Is there a grand plan or am I here to navigate life on my own? What was 'meant to be' or what occurred due to random events? Are dreams, the stars, or the wrinkles in my hands a window into what might be?

For centuries, human beings have tried to make sense of daily life in the midst of the larger structure of the cosmos. Join Brian Schmisek, PhD, author of the new book, Signs, Superstitions and God's Plan, to delve into the human quest for meaning and what it means for each of us.

Thanks to all who participated in our beautiful Divine Mercy Sunday celebration last week at SFX church, and to our celebrant Fr. Ryan. Many incredible blessings poured out on all present as we adored The Lord, venerated the Divine Mercy image, prayed the powerful Chaplet of Mercy, meditated on His sufferings and experienced God's forgiveness in the Sacrament of Reconciliation. Jesus told St. Faustina, His "Secretary of Mercy", that on this 8th day after Easter, we should pray for anything and if it be within God's Will, it will be granted. We also receive a plenary indulgence if six requirements are completed that day, or within a week: 1) repent with the firm desire to rid our attachment to sin, 2) go to confession, 3) pray for the Pope, 4) receive holy communion, 5) pray the Divine Mercy Chaplet and (6) venerate the Divine Mercy. If you were not able to attend on this feast day, it is NEVER too late to receive these Heavenly favors! For more information go to divinemercury.org. Jesus is ALWAYS waiting for us to come to Him and receive His Love and Mercy!
