Dear Friends,

The love that Jesus has with the Father is a love that he appreciates and nurtures. Today's Gospel invites us into that love relationship. Jesus, who already has told us how much the Father loves him, reminds us that he has that same love for each of us. We observe the nurturing of that love as Jesus spends time in conversation with the Father and as he often goes off alone to pray. Before any major miracle, before any major salvific act, Jesus is seen praying.

In their love for each other, the Father and the Son are united, made one, in prayer. As he invites us into that love relationship, there is an unspoken, and sometimes spoken, admonition to pray, to unite ourselves to the Father and the Son in communion with them. When we unite with the Father and the Son, when we commune with them, we experience true love. We receive what we need to do the will of God in the world. We live more peaceful lives, we bear great fruit, and we experience joy.

Yesterday, over a hundred families filled our churches as they celebrated First Holy Communion with their young children. The excitement and enthusiasm of our reception of the Sacrament always fills my heart with joy. My hope and prayer is that the parents of these excited children will commit to ensuring that all who receive First Holy Communion regularly (every Sunday!) receive Our Lord - and nurture the families' love relationship with God.

Many of you know that last week I spent a couple of days in Cuba. People have asked me how it was. I wrestle with an adequate response. "Impactful" probably describes it best. The political and economic situation is dire. Food and clothing are scarce and very expensive for Cubans. Young people are emigrating in droves. The work being done there by the Catholic Church, including Caritas Cuba, amazes me. It makes me grateful for the work that Caritas' sister organization, Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of Chicago, does right here in Cook and Lake Counties. We have a chance to support our own next week, in the Annual Catholic Charities Mother's Day Collection.

I share an English translation of a prayer the community prayed in Saint Thomas of Villanova Church, a recently restored Church in Havana, Cuba. It speaks of love and hope in time of challenge for a people of faith.

Lord Jesus, today we come before you, to give you thanks for being always present with us. Thank you because we encounter you in the love of ...

Faithful spouses,

Fathers and mothers who are with their children and educate them in faith, truth, and love,
Children who attend with care, the elderly in their homes,

Those from other countries who help their family and their friends.

Neighbors who accompany us in our joys and sorrows,

Many who serve selflessly their neighbors.

Help us to feel your comfort and your strength in these very difficult times.

We present to you...

Mothers who fight to feed their children,

Those who don't tire of looking for medicine for their sick,

Families of those who have left - who dream for the day that they will return safely to their home,

Workers who try to bring their loved ones a dignified house,

Those who cry over the departure of spouses, children, grandchildren, and friends,

Those who suffer violence and robbery,

Those who take care of the spiritual, and corporal needs of so many.

Strengthen our faith so that we may know that with you nothing is impossible.

Send your Holy Spirit so that all Cubans, with the potential our people have, learn to live in harmony with one heart and one soul, with different ways of thinking, and, together, find solutions, so that we can continue to be born in peace, to work in peace, to eat in peace and to die in peace.

Most Holy Virgin of Charity, Mother of our Lord Jesus Christ, present to your son our prayers, and tell us as in Cana, "Do whatever he tells you."

Mother of all Cubans, tell us again, "Do not be afraid. Am I not here who your mother?"

Jesus, Good Shepherd, listen to us!

Peace,

PS I hope you will make a generous donation Catholic Charities Mother's Day Collection at Mass next weekend; you can also donate online at www.catholiccharities.net.
